Article Number: 125 | Last Updated: Thu, May 30, 2019 9:15 AM

Yes, after you have created and logged in to your account, you will have the option of editing your account information. However, contact information is currently maintained in both your account and membership records. Please make sure to update both. If you need to update your information after renewing for the season, please contact Member Services and we will be happy to make the changes for you.
